If you want to see the largest and finest selection of candies ever brought to Keytesville, visit Mal Anderson's store. The stock is superb, and the prices the lowest.

Mal Anderson buys his goods for cash; he sells for cash, and at as low prices as any house in North Missouri. Call and see dry goods, groceries, &c., and prices, for yourself.

In order to avoid a long conversation and contention with customers over prices this hot weather, C. A. Scott & Co. have made prices on their goods so low that all must be suited.

Mrs. M. Blakey, of Paris, and Mrs. T. G. Dulany, of Salisbury, were the guests of Mrs. Wm. E. Hill, of this place, Wednesday.

The Adventists didn't succeed with their big fire on the 11th, but they came "mighty" near it; at least, it was "all-fired" hot.

We understand the board of trustees have ordered certain sidewalks made, but the same rotten boards and sticks disgrace our streets.

We understand there is a move on foot among the young folks to organize another literary society in town. We hope it may succeed.

Miss Fannie Brooks and Ella Wheeler left here Friday evening for a two weeks' visit to their uncle, Mr. R. J. Wheeler, of Bucklin.

George Kuechler of Brunswick has been appointed post clerk on the Chicago & Alton railroad extension from Mexico to Kansas City.

The fronts of the buildings occupied by Messrs. Wheeler & Jared, and C. A. Scott & Co., are being painted, greatly improving their appearance.

Mrs. James L. Applegate, of St. Louis, accompanied by her family, are in town spending a portion of the heated term with relatives and friends.

Martin Coyne, mate on board the steamer Joe Kinner, shot and killed a deck hand named West Forbes, Wednesday morning while near Lexington.

These are excellent nights for moonlight picnics. The young folks start out before dark to await the rising of the moon—which is about day-light.

The room occupied by Mr. Hansmann as a confectionery, beer saloon, and restaurant has been cooled over head and walls, and greatly improved in appearance.

The Grundy County Times publishes, under an order of the County court, a petition for drapshop license, by a firm of Trenton, which contains 382 signatures.

An unknown disease is prevailing among the cattle in the northern and eastern portions of Henry county which has resulted in the death of several head, and many others are affected.

Mr. R. W. Goldsby went up to Chillicothe last Saturday on business in court, and returned Wednesday. Mr. Goldsby also left Thursday evening on a business trip to Cass county, to return Saturday morning.

Mr. Wm. E. Hill and family will start East next week on a visit to relatives and friends. Mr. Hill has a sister living in New York state. Mr. Jno. C. Miller will conduct the affairs of the bank in Mr. Hill's absence.

Our handsome young friend, E. B. Kellogg, made a flying visit to family and friends here Monday. Earl has been in Glasgow some time, but is now at Salisbury, where he will be on duty in day time for a while.

Mr. Millon, of Rothville, shipped from Laclede, to Chicago, over the B. and S. W. R. R. last Monday, about 119 head of the finest cattle ever raised in this part of the county.—Brookfield Chronicle. Hurrah for Chicago.

If the subject is not becoming monotonous, we should like to say that the sidewalks are generally in a wretched condition, and we fear that unless something is done with them soon the town will be involved in a law suit for damages.

We are under obligations to the Saline County A. and M. association for a ticket to their Seventh annual fair, to be held at Miami, Tuesday, August 26th, continuing four days. They publish, in neat pamphlet form, a list of liberal premiums.

Mr. Bartz is recognized as the best miller in this section of the state, and the people of the county will be glad to learn that the recent rains have supplied a good head of water, enabling the Keytesville Mills to do grinding for all customers promptly.

The Chicago Field, after a thorough search through the archives of the Smithsonian, and pages of manuscript from Richard Grant White, asserts that the letters H. M. S. which occur before "Pinafore" stand for His Miserable Shadow.

Mal Anderson is selling out his ready-made clothing at greatly reduced prices. If you want anything to hide your nakedness you would better call on Mal Anderson, Keytesville, Mo., before it is everlasting too late to be saved from high prices.

Mal Anderson has just received a large invoice of staple and fancy dry goods, notions, &c., to which he would invite your attention. His stock is complete in every department, and his prices lower than ever before offered. Give him a call.

J. Whitman has on hand a large assortment of tinware, hardware, &c., which he is selling 25 per cent. below usual prices. He has first-class tinners employed, and is prepared to do all kinds of repairing. Orders for tinware of special designs promptly filled.

Mr. Wm. M. Hill, who lives about one and a half miles northeast of town, was taken suddenly ill Monday morning while at work in the field with congestion of the brain and lungs, caused by intense heat, but we are glad to state that he is able to get around again.

Mr. Wm. F. Jared, accompanied by his oldest daughter, Miss Anna, will start on a visit of several weeks to Mr. Jared's old home in Meade county, Kentucky, about the 6th of August. Mr. B. G. Willett and family will also visit the old stamping grounds in that neighborhood at the same time.

Young man, old man, and boy, don't think you can do without clothing simply because it's warm—the necessities of the case require that you be well-dressed to keep up appearances, and in order to assist you in this laudable purpose C. A. Scott & Co. will sell you ready-made clothing cheaper than ever offered you before.

The business men of Trenton are trying to raise a purse for an extra race at the fair, at that place. The association propose to give as much as $1000 to the winner, and in this way they hope to get up a purse of $500 or more. The race is to be a two and a quarter mile dash, free for all horses. Considerable money has already been subscribed.

Shad, which have been planted by the United States Fish Commission in several streams where they did not exist before, have been found to live and thrive, especially in the Southern States. Dr. T. M. Thorpe, of Hot Springs, Ark., recently sent a four-pound shad to Professor Baird, which was caught in the Washitaw river in that state, one of a planting some four or five years ago.—Chicago Field.

A short time ago an impudent slur was thrown at the county court of this county because the court refused to allow a certain pet more than $4 for a pauper coffin. This must have been a fair price, for we notice that in Carrollton has agreed with the county court to furnish Carroll county such coffins at $3 each, and throw in enough boards to cover the vaults.

From a private source we learn of a painful accident which happened to Mr. Chilis, formerly of this place, but whose home is now in Kansas. The other day while out buggy riding with other members of the family, they were thrown from the buggy while crossing an ugly cut in the road. No one sustained any serious injuries save Mrs. Chilis, and her's will by no means prove fatal.

A special dispatch in the K. C. Times says a young Methodist preacher, named Geo. F. Balkey, who has been following his profession in Chillicothe, on Wednesday entered the house of Mr. Robinson, of that place, while the family were absent, and stole $20 in money. The preacher was arrested, and in a preliminary examination was held to await the action of the grand jury. Pass around the hat.

Mal Anderson does not believe in going all round Robin Hood's barn, &c., he simply wishes to say that he has a large and well selected stock of dry goods, notions, &c., staple and fancy groceries, ready-made clothing, hats, boots and shoes, all of which he will sell as low as the goods can be had in north Missouri. He invites inspection and comparison of his goods and prices. Country produce taken.

J. G. Wood, the well-known English naturalist, in a lecture the other day said that there was literally nothing of which he (the lecturer) was so fond as rat pie. This was a dish which frequently made its appearance on his table, and was enjoyed by all his family. He had several friends, too, who, as he had, had overcome their prejudice, and thoroughly enjoyed a good helping of rat pie.—Chicago Field. Where is Davis, of Saline?

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. F. T. Dyart received a telegram from College Mound, stating that Miss Effie, Mrs. Dyart's youngest sister, was very sick. The telegram was dated Friday, and had been delayed, but Mr. Dyart started, reaching home Sunday night late, to find that his sister had died early Saturday morning and was buried Sunday. Miss Effie was an estimable young lady about 17 years old. Her disease was an affection of the lungs, from which she had been suffering some time.

Hatch & Van Evert, former lessees of the C. B. and Q. R. R., are about completing arrangements to finish the work on the road running from Chillicothe to Des Moines, Iowa, and it is expected that cars will be running over the road by Christmas. It is also thought now quite sure that the Burlington and Northwestern will locate its road through Chillicothe on their way to Kansas City. If so, this will give our enterprising sister city four good railroads, which, with its fine situation and good soil about it, will insure a handsome inland trading center.

Two Granges in Chariton county have passed resolutions condemning the course of Senator Mackay and Representative Hammons in the last legislature. Pedee Grange No. 1,383, was particularly severe on Senator Mackay for failing, as they contend, to redeem his pledges on subject of retrenchment and reform. Oral Grange No. 1148 charges Senator Mackay with being the champion of court-house rings and high salaries, while it declares that the whole course of Representative Hammons may be summed up in one word, "Judas," he having been a zealous Granger before his election.

In another column will be found a card from Mr. J. S. Gilliam in regard to the cultivation of wheat. Last year Mr. G. experimented with three leading varieties, to see which would yield most. He sowed in one field several acres each of May, Wilson and Egyptian. The Egyptian yielded nearly twice as much as the May, and the Wilson yielded about one-third more than the May. Mr. Gilliam is of the opinion that the Egyptian will yield much more here than other varieties. Mr. Gilliam is one of our oldest citizens, and one of our best farmers, and his opinion as regards any crop is worthy of consideration.

The Moberly Monitor and the Jockey Club have buried the hatchet. The Monitor said the officers of the Club did not use proper efforts to put down indecency under their eyes; the Club demanded a retraction, and the Monitor refused to retract. The Club excluded its reporter from the stand on the grounds. The Huntville Herald took up the defense of the Club, and things were getting hot when the Club restored the reporter, granting him privileges of the ground, &c., and leaving the Herald the bag to hold. We are glad the Club has done so much to stop the quarrel, and hope our neighbors may cease hostilities.

The latest dodge in swindling, says an exchange, is perpetrated by tramps pretending to be deaf mutes. Instead of carrying slates, as is the custom with real deaf and dumb persons, they have a pass book or paper upon which they have farmers and other names and conversation. By this means they secure a specimen of penmanship of every person they have conversation with, together with other bits of information that is useful to them in forging notes, orders, etc., on innocent unsuspecting farmers. When such fellows come around give them to understand that you can't write, not even your name.—G. C. Times.

James Owens, who was arrested in Ray county about two weeks ago, charged with horse stealing, was Wednesday indicted in Richmond, by a special grand jury empaneled for the purpose of looking into the case. After being indicted, he went before Judge Dunn, of the circuit court, and pleaded guilty to the charge, and got two years in the pen at Jefferson City for so doing. After pleading guilty, he took a good look at the grand jury, and said that as soon as his time was out he was coming back to steal a horse from each of them, and, if any were too poor to have a horse, he would kill them on each of them. Hatch & Van Evert, lessees of the C. B. and Q. R. R., and whose lease will run out September 1, sold their unexpired term to the owners of the St. L., K. C. and N. R. R., and were to give up their possession after Saturday night, the 12th. At that time, not having received their pay, as they alleged, for the surrender of the road, they declined to give it up, and ordered the switches at Brunswick to be locked after their own train had gone up to C. on the evening of the 12th, which was done. This was to prevent the St. L., K. C. and N. R. from putting the train on the track, which then stood on the yard at Brunswick, and thereby getting possession, which is said to be nine points in law. Sunday morning the last named railroad company started three trains out of Brunswick, broke the switch locks, and started rejoicing on their way to Chillicothe. The above named lessees, being advised of these occurrences, sent a force to Tripoli and had the track run up to stop the coming trains, but the St. L., K. C. and N. R. Co. had anticipated this and were ready with a sufficient force to put down the rails that had been displaced and go up to Chillicothe all the same. Quite a crowd had gathered at the depot at C. when the trains arrived, as it was thought some trouble might occur between the employees of the two companies, but as most people pay homage to a rising, rather than a setting sun, and as the St. L., K. C. and N. R. R. was soon sure to come into control of the road, it was found that the employees of the Lessees, in order to secure their positions all the same from the new managers of the road all went over to the side of the St. L., K. C. and N. R. Co. without soldiers for the battle, and thus the small boys of C. were miserably cheated out of an hour's entertainment, and yet editor of the sensational phase of a good local. We understand the St. L., K. C. and N. R. Co. were holding back the price agreed upon for the surrender of the C. B. and Q. because of certain alleged damages on the line during the occupancy of it by Hatch & Co. So the courts may have to settle the dispute between them.

Keytesville Fair. We understand Mr. Hill has determined on holding the fair at this place next fall at the usual time commencing about the first Tuesday in October and continuing five days.

The programme and premium lists will be given to the public in due time. There is a very light crop of tobacco on hand this season and an abundance of corn and oats, and our farmers will have ample time and means to put their stock in good condition for exhibition.

There is now much more good stock in our country than is generally supposed to be, but the amount is comparatively nothing like what it should be. We certainly have one of the best counties in the state for the successful production of grain and stock, and it is a matter of surprise that our farmers have so long overlooked this most important and remunerative branch of their calling.

All are free to admit that stock raising is far more pleasant and profitable than tobacco raising, yet they seem at a loss to know how to make a change in their manner of farming.

We hope to see a more lively interest taken in our stock exhibitions this fall, and we would like to see our farmers put on some more plan by which more and a better class of stock could be distributed throughout our country.

We would suggest to our granger friends that no more important subject could engage their earnest and careful consideration.

The promotion of the general welfare and prosperity of the farming class is the chief object and aim of the grange organization, and we can think of no enterprise which the grangers could so successfully inaugurate that would contribute more speedily and permanent advancement in that matter than some organized concert of action among the farmers for the purpose of producing more and better grades of stock in our country. The grange organization is where they meet and discuss matters of general interest to the farmers, and in that connection it occurs to us that some such enterprise as we have mentioned could be organized from which they could reasonably expect the best of results. Will they try it?

Monroe County Fair. The Paris Mercury of the 15th inst. reports that the fair organization of the board of directors for the fair at Paris next fall has been effected, and the various committees have all been appointed. The bare mention of the names of a few of the committees selected will be a sufficient guarantee to all parties interested that the Monroe county fair for 1879 will be a grand success. Among the list we find names such as the Bridgford, Barkers, Ragades, Holliday, J. J. Clark, E. R. Burgess, J. J. Woods, J. J. McGee, and a host of others that we might mention. A committee has been appointed to invite Senator Wade Hampton to deliver an address "on some day during the fair. The time for holding the fair has not been fixed yet, but matters have gone far enough to guarantee the certainty and the success of the enterprise, and we can think of no report more fitting than that the fair at Paris next fall will be a grand success. It is one of the counties in the state where the objects and aims of the stock and agricultural fair have been fully realized. For years past the farmers of Monroe have been entitled to the credit of raising more, larger, fatter, better, and finer stock of all kinds on poorer lands than any where else in the state of Missouri, and if Chariton county men don't believe what we say about it, just let them attend their fair at Paris, and we will tell them that the fair will be the best of the truth of each and every proposition we have stated.

Those Specimens of Wheat. Mr. Editor:—The mention you have made of specimens of wheat shown you has occasioned considerable talk on the subject. Having raised three varieties in one field (May, Wilson and Egyptian) for the information of your readers I will state that the May yielded about 18 bushels per acre; the Wilson about 25, and the Egyptian about 30 bushels per acre.

Mr. Geo. A. Chapman informs me he raised 804 bushels, threshers' measure, on 25 acres, Egyptian variety.

I changed seed every three years, and obtained the best seed I can, and rarely fail to get a crop, and my opinion is that it is a natural consequence for those to fail who continue the same seed for years.

To be successful in growing wheat change seed, and sow the best, in early and have the ground in good condition.

Salisbury Jottings. EN. COURIER.—On the 11th inst. the Union Sunday-school at Lee's school-house, about four miles east of this place, gave a picnic. Other schools having been invited, as a natural consequence, great interest was manifested in preparing to make the occasion an enjoyable one. It was scarcely 9 o'clock before the grounds were crowded with friends and neighbors, who had come far and near to see and be seen. At half past 10 o'clock the schools formed near the school-house and marched to the picnic grounds, where an arbor had been erected to shade the seats and speaker's stand. The schools united in singing some select pieces while marching. So very beautiful was the singing that we could not help but think of that Home where all is music. The schools being seated, prayer was offered by Rev. P. Sears. After prayer Mr. W. Craig led the choir, which furnished music as sweet as ever vibrated through the air. Rev. Wm. Penn was then introduced, who held the audience spell-bound for more than an hour. The subject of the orator was "Pure and Happy Hours." Your humble correspondent would gladly furnish a synopsis, but, fearing that we would not do the gentleman justice, owing to the beautiful manner in which he treated the subject, we refrain from so doing. After Bro. Penn had closed his remarks the members united in singing some pieces while the table committee prepared dinner. Everything being in trim dinner was declared ready for all, when to our happy surprise there stood before us a table fully one hundred yards in length, on which might have been seen some of every good thing that a proper and God loving people could ask for. Fully one hour was spent in taking in refreshments. We saw quite a number of buttons scattered here and there over the ground. It is to be presumed they were given up their former attachments when we consider that half was not eaten; because of the excessive amount under which the schools united in singing another piece, after which they were dismissed and left to enjoy the remainder of the evening after their own taste. This is but in idea as to how about 800 of our good people spent the bright and sunny 11th.

The only child of Prof. W. and Rebecca Terrell, of Mexico, Mo., died at this place on Friday last. The child had been seemingly a little unwell through the day but nothing worth relating had happened until about sunset, when the child fell by its mother's side, while sitting on a porch at Mr. E. Wayland's. The mother picked the child up and ran about half way across the street, when she met the Doctor, who happened to be near. The Doctor took the child and carried it back to Mr. Wayland's, where it expired in a few minutes. On Monday following a post-mortem examination was made which revealed every evidence of having been sun struck. Rev. Pope Yeaman preached his funeral at 9 o'clock Monday, after which it was interred in the Salisbury cemetery. The stricken parents have the deepest sympathies of our people.

The advance guard of sickness has appeared, and it is feared that a field detachment will be sent against us soon.

Salisbury will be entitled to another voter in 21 years, a son to the wife of Wm. Porsey.

Prof. P. A. Fredrick has returned from a business trip to Kansas.

Mrs. M. Blakey, of Paris, Mo., is the guest of Mr. T. G. Dulany and wife.

Miss Hattie Salisbury has returned from a visit to friends in Konoke.

The temperance meeting on last Monday night was rendered quite pleasant by the entertainment given by Miss Anna Moore, of Palmyra, by way of some fine vocal and instrumental music as ever charmed the ear of man. Also by Miss Henrietta Baker, of Glasgow, by orating. Miss Baker's oratorical powers are not excelled by the most experienced.

The picnic given by the young folks in Judge Salisbury's yard on Tuesday night last was a very pleasant affair. The yard was beautifully illuminated, and a very nice floor for dancing, on which the young ladies appeared more graceful than usual. A nice lunch was indulged in about mid-night which seemed to give much vim to the entertainment.

If you will send us a few raw ice-bergs we will be happy.

Now-AND-THE.

Dalton Dots. Wheat, wheat, lots of wheat comes rolling into town.

Mercury has been sweltering for the last few days up in the neighborhood of 100. Fine rain on the 12th, which did the crops a great deal of good.

Wheat has been fluctuated in this market for the past few days, but at present is rather on the advance.

To Mr. F. C. Hark and wife, on July 12th, a fine girl, weight, nine pounds.

Capt. James Wallace, of Keytesville, visited our town on the 12 and 13 on professional business.

Miss Chlo Abbott, of New Orleans, La., is visiting Mr. J. P. Williams' family near this place.

Mr. Lucy Rector left Tuesday to visit his brother, who resided near Renick, Mo.

Rev. Mr. Smith preached to a full house on Sunday morning and night. We regret that the next will be his farewell sermon.

Too hot to write more. ALPHA.
